LOCATION

This unit forms part of the highly successful Welburn Business Park, situated with almost immediate access on to the A64 between York and Malton. The A64 provides direct links to Scarborough, Leeds and the A1(M). The Yorkshire Coastliner Bus service provides excellent public transport links between Leeds and the Yorkshire Coast, the towns and cities in between.

Malton and York have superb rail connections enabling London to be reached in less than 2½ hours

DESCRIPTION

The unit is of traditional stone construction with brick dressings and is built over a single storey. It is set within an attractive and characterful rural business complex, yet only a very short distance from the A64 and is close to the village of Welburn which has a popular pub/restaurant and café. There is heating provided by panel radiators.

The property has an interesting quirky layout with reception, break out area, fitted kitchen and WCs, 2 office areas, meeting room and store room.

Subject to planning, there may be potential to convert the unit into a cottage. This is an informal opinion only and interested parties must make their own enquiries. The adjoining property is also for sale by separate vendor but we can discuss the potential of a combined sale of both units.

Externally there is a large car park providing plentiful car parking.
